We started off day eight, by hopping on the bus and heading to the city where we had another fun and educational day at camp. We went to the FDNY's Fire Zone.

Once at the Fire Zone, we were greeted by a real firefighter who showed us step by step how they handle equipment and real fires, by using all the gauges on the truck, hose and ladder.

We also got to experience a simulated fire in which we had to act accordingly when the fire occurred, by stopping, dropping and rolling. We got to see an enactment of how the firefighters rescue people as well.

It was really amazing to see how the firemen help people daily and how we can behave and act appropriately if ever in a situation like that!
