Snow Days..

As the blizzard took its' toll, the participants' positivity kept their spirits high. We were thrilled to return to Otsar on Wednesday. We went around the room as the participants shared what they did on their days off. Roger enjoyed a delicious supper of hamburgers and fries. Bracha shared that she spent quality time with her family. We all know that Otsar Day Hab is truly our "home away from home"!

Mishloach Manos Baskets..

Preparation for the joyous Yom Tov of Purim is in full swing! As the energy is starting to mount, the participants are eagerly counting down the days. We were delighted to paint containers that will hold our mishloach manos. On Wednesday, in walked acrylic desk caddies on clear feet. Each caddy was sectioned into four with tape. Using acrylic paint, we painted each section a different color. Once it was dry, we added another layer of paint. Mark wondered which delicacies will fill the container. Sara was looking forward to utilize the caddy. The participants also decorated a pretty Purim label. We can hardly wait to indulge in these delightful mishloach manos, dressed in costume!

Heavenly Hamantashen..

Yes, you read right! On Wednesday, the participants were on seventh heaven as we baked hamantashen. We each received homemade dough which we shaped into a triangle. The participants had a rough time choosing between chocolate and raspberry filling.

Mordy sported a bright smile as he placed a generous scoop of raspberry filling onto the dough. We inhaled the delicious aroma as the hamantashen baked in the oven. We are ready and raring for our carnival next week that will turn your day “upside-down”!!
