Parachute Activity..

On Monday, the participants were "flying high"! Abraham announced we would be doing a parachute game. The participants almost fell out of their seats when they heard the latest development. Out came a giant-size, colorful parachute. We tossed glitter beach balls in the center and turned on beat"y music. The participants vigorously shook the parachute up and down. Peryls' smile extended from one ear to the other. Miriam impressed us with her incredible strength. Hold your breath, there is more fun coming! We lifted up the parachute and together with staff, the participants ran under to the other side. Yaakov was breathless and made it just in time, before the parachute floundered to the floor. It was heart-warming to watch everyone working together, like one big, happy family! We all know that Otsar Day Hab has a special "flare" that attracts those far and near!!

Serene Snowflakes..

High-end, dazzling crafts have become the new norm at Otsar.

The participants have come to expect something other-worldly and this Tuesday was no exception. We crafted snowflakes, in many different magnificent shapes. We started out with coating the snowflakes in glue. The participants then poured on table salt. Using blue and purple paint, Yelena painted majestic strokes. Sara went with a silver theme. Our aesthetic talents sharpened and the expressions on our faces said it all.

We can't wait to grace the walls of our second home with these eye-catching snowflakes!!

Rosh Chodesh Extravaganza..

The participants sensed excitement in the air but couldn't quite pinpoint it. Sure enough, Monday was an action-packed day.

We rolled out the red carpet in honor of Rosh Chodesh Shvat.

Anat served mouthwatering potato kugel for lunch. We also made our very own fruit salad. The sound of chopping was heard as we hammered away. Preparation is fully underway to make this Tu B'shvat the most memorable one yet!!

Dancing with Arkadiy..

The participants count down the days to Arkadiy's dancing session. He brings unique energy, positivity and smiles to our Day Hab. As always, Arkadiy was greeted with resounding applause when he arrived. We started out with warm up exercises. "Stretch those hands as high as you can". We learnt a brand new dance this week. Arkadiy showed us the steps, along with a beat. One, two, one.. He then danced with each participant individually. We were blown away by our skilled dancers. The participants have mastered many dance rhythms and are ready to take it up a notch. Stay tuned for some new moves that will most definitely "take the floor"!
