

Today was a wonderful day at MDC!

We started off the day by going to the police station. We saw so many interesting things.

We got to see where the captain and lieutenant sit (some of us even tried out their chairs 😊). We met all different types of police men and police women. We even got to go inside a police car!

After our wonderful trip, we got back the blue jello we had prepared earlier in the day – not to eat - but to make a cool sensory ocean scene.

Can you find the fish inside the water – press down and see where the fish are.

Can't wait to see what's in store for tomorrow!
