Balloon Swatting Game..

Have you heard the latest news?! Each week, the staff will present an innovative exercise game. Here at Otsar, we're always looking to spruce up our activities and raise the bar. Monday brought along a day filled with colorful balloons and good cheer. The participants sat in two rows, facing each other. Each participant got a fly swatter. We blew up balloons and placed them in the center of the two rows. Our job was to hit the balloons to the participants on the other side, using the swatter. Lots of cheering and laughter was heard as the participants competed in this fast-paced game!! Bracha hit the balloon to Yanky. Miriam missed the hit from Danny but quickly found the balloon and swatted it back.

It was heartwarming to watch everyone work together to make the game a smashing success. We all know that there is never a dull moment at Otsar Day

Hab!!

Snow Paradise..

Snow is falling gracefully on the mountaintops as the children frolic and build snowmen. The participants were transformed into a winter wonderland. This week in our arts n' crafts session, we created a magical snow scene. The participants received a paper with a picture of a snowman in the backdrop of a mountain. Each section was labeled with a different color. We scrunched up tissue paper and glued it on to the sheet. Yossi enjoyed this sensory activity. Mordy admired his creative artwork. The final product looked dazzling. We are looking forward to a wonderful winter ahead filled with cozy activities and warm friendships!!

Trip to Green Acres Mall..

The participants were thrilled to go on one of their favorite trips, the Green Acres Mall! On Wednesday, the participants visited Shoppers World. Francine bought a set complete with a hat, scarf and gloves. Eddie J purchased a sports ball. Yelena bought a delicious smelling perfume. We walked around the mall, enjoying the many different pictures on display. The participants came back full of zest. Roger remarked “Our group went to the mall. I especially enjoyed eyeing the collection of men’s clothing. We had a great time”. Stay tuned for an exciting trip coming up next week that will leave you with an appreciation for nature!

Kitchen Scoop..

Join me as we take a peek inside our kitchen group. The participants look forward to working in the kitchen and mastering many culinary skills. On Monday, we had nutritious fish, quinoa and vegetable salad. In the afternoon, we baked banana muffins. Yum! Tuesday brought along sweet potatoes, tuna patties, and string beans. Our stomachs grumbled in anticipation as we prepared the food.

On Wednesday, we were treated to steaming vegetable soup.

We topped it off on Thursday with baked ziti, an Otsar favorite.

The lucky group of participants hammered away but their efforts surely paid off. We were all impressed with how flavorsome the food tasted. Thank you Otsar for preparing a top-notch menu!!
